NOXIOUS WEEDS

What is a Noxious Weed? They are non-native plants that have been introduced to Spokane County through human actions. Because of their aggressive growth and lack of natural enemies, these species can be destructive, competitive, and difficult to control.

RUSH SKELETONWEED
(CHONDRILLA JUNCEA)

This perennial grows up to 5ft tall. Stems and leaves produce a milky sap. Basal leaves resemble dandelion rosette; they are lobed and point back towards the leaf base. A single flower forms on each rosette. Downwards stems have reddish, coarse hairs. Yellow flowers with toothed petals. Taproot can grow 7ft deep. Plants spread by seed, shoot buds and root fragments. Hand pulling may work for small infestations. Mowing will reduce seed production, but won't kill the plant. Tilling is NOT recommended.

Dave Baughman "The Outdoor Insider"

It sure looks like fall now. The weather has been cold and rainy, which is good news for those who are still fighting the fires in my area. I stopped by the Northrup boat ramp on Sunday morning to see if the docks were still in and there wasn't a single truck and trailer in the parking area. People chose to watch football and the Mariners instead of fishing on a chilly, damp day.

I had a great crew on the Bob Feil Boats and Motors Smoker Craft, and we enjoyed a beautiful Indian Summer day on Rufus Woods on Monday. My long-time fishing partner Buell Hawkins arranged to have Greg Meiszner and Jeff Armaly join us. Greg has fished with Buell and I on Rufus a couple of years ago and on Omak Lake as well. This was Jeff's first chance at fishing for triploid rainbow trout, and he was very impressed. Greg was also impressed with how quickly the Mercury 250 got the big Smoker Craft Phantom up on plane on the quick run from the launch at the middle net pens to the upper pens. It didn't take long for Jeff to get the first fish to the net. We were just fishing with Power Bait on the bottom, and I will blame the lack of current when we got started for the slow action. Later in the morning the current picked up, and they started to spray feed into the pens. The bite came on, and we got more fish at closer intervals. The fish ranged in size from about 3.5 to 5 pounds. This week's photo is of my friend Buell with one of the fish.

Looking back through some of my photos to see what I was doing in October the past couple of years, there were several taken on Omak Lake. This is a very scenic lake on the Colville Indian Reservation, just eight miles from the town of Omak. What draws me to the lake is the Lahontan cutthroat that inhabit it. The numbers of these fish that we catch is astounding. Last year Rollie Schmitten and I fished an afternoon, and the following morning. We kept track and had released 94 cutthroat! I fish with two down riggers down deep, and two rods out the back flat lined with a variety of lures or even flies on a sinking line. Last year the cutthroat averaged between 18 and 21 inches, and there is always the possibility of hooking one much larger. The state record for Lahontan cutthroat was caught on Omak by my long time friend Dan Beardlsey and weighed 18 pounds, 4 ounces. A Colville Tribal fishing license, Reservation Access Permit and Launch Permit is required to fish here. I figure the cost is well worth it for the quality of fishing.

If you were following my reports and posts during this year's sockeye season on Lake Wenatchee, you know that I struggled getting fish in the boat. The previous year I had tremendous success, often getting limits for as many as four anglers in my boat. This year was a completely different story. If you were frustrated, you weren't alone. I saw anglers that had been fishing Lake Wenatchee for decades getting skunked! I know that there were some anglers out there that had very good success, but overall, it was a very "off" season for anglers. Travis Maitland, area biologist with the WDFW, sent me a report with the harvest numbers for the 2025 season. The total catch reported was 6,879. In 2024 the catch was about 18,000 for the same period, and although the numbers of sockeye that made it to Lake Wenatchee was an all-time record, there were still plenty of fish in the lake this year. I tried a variety of changes to my usual methods and techniques to catch sockeye this year, and I avoided getting skunked, but I landed about half the number of fish that I landed the previous season.

According to Chris Donley, WDFW's eastern region fish manager, five lakes in Eastern Washington that closed to fishing at the end of September could have longer seasons next year. The WDFW is taking public comment on a petition to extend the fishing season on Williams, Badger, Fishtrap, West Medical and Fan lakes. If approved, the lakes would be open from the fourth Saturday in April to Oct. 31 each year. The agency hasn't yet decided on whether extending the season is the right choice, and they want to know what anglers think. "The agency needs public input on whether that's a good idea or a bad idea," Donley said. The comment portal merges the Eastern Washington lakes proposal with two others – one related to licensing rules for Vancouver Lake and one related to a proposed closure of part of the Cle Elum River. Public comments are open until Oct. 17. The agency will make a final decision by the end of October. Please let me know what you think. Also, here is a link where the department is accepting public comments on the proposal to extend the fishing season on the five lakes: https://wdfw.wa.gov/about/regulations/development/2025-recreational-fishing-changes-and-cle-elum-dam-area-closure

The price to visit state parks in Washington went up on Oct. 1, with a $15 hike to the annual cost of a Discover Pass. State lawmakers approved the increase from $30 to $45 earlier this year. It marks the first time the pass's price has gone up since it was introduced in 2011. Transaction fees can also apply to pass purchases, including a $5 charge for online sales. The passes are required for motor vehicle access to state parks and other recreation sites. The Discover Pass provides one year of unlimited entry to all Washington state lands managed by the Washington State Parks and Recreation Commission, the Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife and the Washington Department of Natural Resources. Also, going into effect Oct. 1 are changes to the Lifetime Disabled Veterans Pass, allowing passholders access to lands managed by the Department of Natural Resources and Fish and Wildlife. Revenue from the Discover Pass and other fee-based funding accounts for about 71% of Washington State Parks' budget for the 2025-27 biennium — up from about 65% in the last budget cycle. State Parks' operating budget, like many agencies, saw cuts this year as lawmakers dealt with a budget shortfall. The agency's two-year operating budget for the 2025-27 cycle is $257.6 million, about $14.7 million less than its budget for 2023-25.

"Going fast is your job...Telling people about it is ours...!"

HERENSPERGER DONATION BOOST TO MISS SPOKANE RESTORATION

After introductions between Julie Heerensperger Warren and Pancho Simonsen – they had not as yet met – Julie presented the check as Mark Evans, Herman Marchetti, and Stephen Shepperd watched the ceremony. Hydromaniacs photo

CHELAN, WASH. —The ongoing effort to raise funds to restore the Miss Spokane unlimited hydroplane took to the road recently at Mahogany and Merlot in early October in Chelan, Wash.

In a message, Stephen Shepperd, one of those behind the effort wrote, "On the heels of the anonymous $1,000 donation last week, I received a message from Julie Heerensperger Warren with some big news. She had decided to help with the Miss Spokane Restoration effort with a generous donation of $5,000 towards the cause".

Julie's father, David Heerensperger, sponsored the former Miss Spokane for the 1963 and 1964 seasons as the first Miss Eagle Electric. Heerensperger would later campaign the U-25 Pride of Pay 'N Park boat into the 1980s to many notable victories and numerous national championships.

"Needless to say, we are beyond thankful for her generosity," Shepperd wrote. "While it is well short of the estimated $100,000 needed to complete the job, it certainly moves us forward in being able to begin to secure the needed materials."

On Friday, October 3, Julie and her family were in Chelan for Mahogany and Merlot, so a check presentation was arranged where Julie handed over the check to Kent 'Pancho' Simonson, team manager of the restoration. This brings the total from button sales and donations to nearly $8,000.

"Thanks again to Julie and her family for the donation and your faith in the project," Shepperd said.

Original 1983 Miss Spokane Restoration buttons are available at $15 per button and $7 shipping. "We also encourage anyone interested in making a donation to do so," Shepperd added.

Cash or checks can be sent to: Hydromaniacs.unlimited, 1120 W Fallview Drive, Coeur d'Alene, ID 83815. PayPal and Venmo links are also provided, but a reminder that those services charge a fee for transferring the money to our account after the sale.

HAMLIN SEIZES 60TH WIN, 'CHAMPIONSHIP 4' SPOT WITH VEGAS VICTORY | By Holly Cain-NASCAR Wire Service

LAS VEGAS (October 12, 2025) – Denny Hamlin scored an emotional victory and claimed a significant career milestone with a dramatic win in Sunday's NASCAR Cup Series' South Point 400 Playoff race at Las Vegas Motor Speedway.

Hamlin passed two cars in the final 10 laps, ultimately taking the lead from his Joe Gibbs Racing teammate Chase Briscoe with four laps remaining then holding off the day's most dominant driver Kyle Larson by 1.533-second to claim his series' best sixth win of the season and 60th win of his career.

The win secures the first of four positions in the Nov. 2 Championship Race at Phoenix Raceway – landing Hamlin his first title shot since 2021.

Hamlin was notably moved in the moments after climbing out of his No. 11 Joe Gibbs Racing Toyota. Instead of the typical playful banter the veteran normally delivers to the crowd after a win, the 44 year-old Virginian spoke more solemnly, mentioning his father Dennis, who has been ill.

"This win means a lot, this is the point where I kind of give the fans some $#%& [grief] but not today, I appreciate you all so much," said Hamlin, his eyes water-filled as he looked toward the crowded grandstands.

It marked the eighth time Hamlin and fellow Playoff contender Larson have finished in some combination of first and second place. Larson's No. 5 Hendrick Motorsports Chevrolet was the class of the field for most of the day – leading a race high 129 of the 267 laps – but just unable to hold off Hamlin's pole-winning Toyota heading to the checkered flag.

Larson, like Hamlin took four tires on the final pit stop and lined up on the second row for the final restart with 14 laps remaining. Hamlin's teammate Briscoe was out front, benefitting from a two-tire call that gave him better track position.

Hamlin re-started fifth and made his way forward, passing Larson with five laps remaining and then getting around his teammate Briscoe with four laps remaining. Larson and then Joe Gibbs Racing's Christopher Bell also got around Briscoe in the closing laps.

It marked the 15th time this year Toyota had four of a race's top five finishing drivers. The effort gives Bell a 20 point advantage on the cutoff line in third-place and Briscoe a 15 point edge.

Reigning series champion and current Playoff driver, Team Penske's Joey Logano also gambled on a two-tire stop on that last caution period and was able to manage a sixth-place finish. Hendrick Motorsports' Chase Elliott was 18th rallying from an early race pit miscue and penalty.

23XI Racing's Tyler Reddick was the lone non-Playoff driver among the top-five Sunday, finishing fifth in his Toyota. Hendrick's Alex Bowman, Richard Childress Racing's Kyle Busch, and Roush-Fenway-Keselowski teammates Ryan Preece and Brad Keselowski rounded out the top 10.

The NASCAR Cup Series moves to the Talladega Superspeedway high banks next Sunday for the Yellawood 500 (2 p.m. ET on NBC, MRN, SiriusXM NASCAR Radio). Ricky Stenhouse Jr. is the defending race winner.

PROCK, KALITTA, GLENN, GADSON WIN PLAYOFF RACE AT FALLNATIONALS

From NHRA Media

ENNIS, Texas (Oct. 12, 2025) – Funny Car points leader Austin Prock rolled to his ninth win of the season on Sunday at Texas Motorplex for John Force Racing, defeating Ron Capps in the final round of the 40th annual Texas NHRA FallNationals.

Doug Kalitta (Top Fuel), Dallas Glenn (Pro Stock) and Richard Gadson (Pro Stock Motorcycle) also won the 18th of 20 races during the 2025 NHRA Mission Foods Drag Racing Series season, as all four points leaders celebrated victories at the fourth of six races in the Countdown to the Championship playoffs.

Prock went 3.959 seconds at 328.30 mph in his 12,000 horsepower Cornwell Tools Chevrolet SS, powering past Capps' run of 4.405 at 199.80 to move a step closer to his second straight world championship. It's Prock's ninth win of the season and the 21st in his career, as well as his first career victory at the famed Texas Motorplex.

"We went out there and won and all of the cards fell right today, and we were able to extend our points leads, so that definitely feels really good," Prock said. "You always want to extend your points lead even if it's by one point, but we did a lot more than that.

Top Fuel's Doug Kalitta continued a spectacular run in the Countdown to the Championship, advancing to his fourth straight final and winning a second straight race after a run of 3.777 at 333.04 in his 12,000 horsepower Mobil DELVAC 100th Anniversary dragster to take down Texan Steve Torrence.

Kalitta has advanced to the final in every playoff race thus far and now has four wins this season and 59 in his career – as well as a 141 point lead over Justin Ashley with two races remaining.

On a hot day at Texas Motorplex, Kalitta and his team were locked in, as he went in the 3.70s three different times, picking up round wins against Jasmine Salinas, Ida Zetterstrom and teammate Shawn Langdon in a crucial semifinal matchup.

"Alan [Johnson, crew chief] and my guys, they really have a handle on this thing and it's fun to drive, so I'm just trying to do my best," Kalitta said. "It's really impressive with the temperature swing with what we had today, and to be able to run that [3.]77 in the final".

In Pro Stock, Dallas Glenn moved a step closer to a first world championship, driving past Aaron Stanfield in the finals with a run of 6.605 at 208.89 in his RAD Torque Systems Chevrolet Camaro. It handed Glenn his seventh win this season in what has become an incredible year and gave the young standout his 20th career victory.

The win, also his first at Texas Motorplex, gives Glenn a 60 point advantage over KB Titan Racing teammate Greg Anderson, who lost in the semifinals to Stanfield.

"I just need to keep turning on win lights," Glenn said. "I just need to go up there and just take everything one round at a time and do everything I can and let the crew chiefs do their job".

It was nearly a picture-perfect weekend for Pro Stock Motorcycle's Richard Gadson, who extended his points lead by defeating rookie Brayden Davis in the final round with a run of 6.796 at 200.37 on his RevZilla/Motul/Vance & Hines Suzuki. It handed Gadson his fourth victory in what has been a dream season for the second-year rider, as he also extended his points lead to 72 points over Gaige Herrera.

"You watch this happen for other people and you want it for yourself, but I try to live in the moment," Gadson said. "I just try to be present mentally in that moment and just say you're living that dream".

The NHRA Mission Foods Drag Racing Series returns to action Oct. 30-Nov. 2 with the 25th annual Dodge NHRA Nevada Nationals powered by Direct Connection at The Strip at Las Vegas Motor Speedway.
